The ITIA believes you have committed a Major Offense(s).
(See paragraph A of the accompanying letter)

2

The potential sanctions should your case proceed to a hearing could be up to a life suspension from professional tennis and a $250,000 fine.
(See paragraph B of the accompanying letter)

3

The ITIA is offering you the opportunity to admit the offenses alleged by the ITIA and accept an agreed sanction at this stage which incorporates discounts for your early admission.
(See paragraph C of the accompanying letter)

You do not have to accept the proposal and can instead choose to have your case resolved at a hearing before an independent Anti-Corruption Hearing Officer. You should note that the Anti-Corruption Hearing Officer may impose a higher sanction which will not include the discount for early admission being proposed by the ITIA now.

You may also be provisionally suspended pending your hearing.
